HURLEY HITS NEGLECT OF MERCHANT MARINE

Puts Blame for Ruin on Public—Asks "Live Committee" Here

Public neglect ruined America's old merchant marine, and Congress, declared Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the Federal States Shipping Board, in appealing to the Chamber of Commerce to take steps to arouse Americans from this attitude.

Hurley, who is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce to appoint a "live committee" on the merchant marine to cooperate with the shipping board in establishing American shipping in world trade and to educate the people along these lines.

"Public neglect ruined our old merchant marine," Mr. Hurley said. "Congress was not to blame—it simply reflected the indifference toward ships of the average American."

"Once more we have a real American merchant fleet under way, backed by far-reaching policies for efficient operation."

"We must dispel differences and keep our flag on the trade routes of the world," Mr. Hurley said. "Congress was not to blame—it simply reflected the indifference toward ships of the average American."

COATESVILLE DRAFT DODGER IS SENTENCED

Convicted as Deserter at Camp Meade, He Gets Ten Years in Prison

Camp Meade, Md., Oct. 7.—If there are any persons within the limits of Coatesville, Pa., who take this warning they will speedily change their minds.

Clayton was summoned by the members of his district draft board in Coatesville to appear before them to receive his orders to come to this camp. Clayton ignored the summons. He was arrested as a deserter, brought to Meade and arraigned before a general court-martial. That court found him guilty. It originally sentenced Clayton to twenty years confinement at hard labor in the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The sentence was later reduced to ten years.

"Clayton may be mighty sorry today that he refused to appear that morning if he had heard of a similar case and a similar sentence meted out by a general court-martial at this confinement," the general court-martial warned, "but he would not have been in such a fix. The man in the other case also went to Leavenworth. The court-martial here have demonstrated that they will show no mercy to men tried on desertion charges. In one case they have gone so far as to sentence a man to death on that charge and it was only the intervention of the President which saved the guilty one from such a fate. The courts have handed out such and twenty years sentences to such offenders on a good many occasions."

HOG ISLAND GIRLS INVITED

Young Women Welcomed to Navy Auxiliary Headquarters

Hog Island girls have been invited to make themselves at home at the headquarters of the Navy Auxiliaries of the American Red Cross, at 221 South Eighteenth street, in Philadelphia, Pa., during the week of the Liberty Loan campaign to a close in one great day of glory.

"Wake up, Philadelphia!" will be the cry of these last three days of the week, designed to create a wave of enthusiasm that will sweep a flood of subscriptions into Liberty Loan headquarters.

Thursday, Flag Day—The city will be a swirl of color, decorated to the last house with American flags and bunting.

Friday, Preparation Day—The city will prepare for the final day's events, the climax of the demonstration.

Saturday, Liberty Day, Emblem and Conscience Day—Every citizen will be expected to display in the window of his home or store the fourth Liberty Loan emblem, and those who have not bought will be expected, as a matter of conscience, to place their subscriptions.

70% Increase in news-stand sales of Everybody's Magazine May 1918 over May 1917

Everybody's Magazine, published by the National Magazine Company, has announced a 70% increase in news-stand sales for May 1918 over May 1917. The magazine's circulation for May 1918 was 1,200,000 copies, compared with 700,000 copies for May 1917. The increase is attributed to the magazine's timely and interesting content, particularly its coverage of the war effort and the Liberty Loan campaign.

WOULD ADVERTISE HEALTH

Tuberculosis Expert Will Propose Plan at North Atlantic Meeting

Newspaper advertising as a means of selling good health to the public will be advocated at the coming North Atlantic Tuberculosis Conference in Philadelphia by Dr. W. H. Whaley, secretary of the Philadelphia tuberculosis committee. Dr. Whaley expects to leave for Philadelphia the latter part of the week. He will speak on "Selling Good Health as a War Conservation Measure."

In order to market the proposition he has to offer, he said today, it is necessary to carry on a campaign similar to that conducted by any large business enterprise. The plan involves newspaper advertising and a wide distribution of striking posters. Influential people would not have gained such a headway if people already had been familiar with the necessity and importance of using a "happier" to catch a breath of energy.

Among the prominent Philadelphians who will attend the conference, which opens on October 17, are Dr. Thomas Wilson, Jefferson Medical College, president of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and Dr. Charles G. Hartfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association.

THE UEHLING CO2 METER

For continuous analysis of boiler fire gases. Designed and built not to fit a certain price, but to attain a definite result. Recommended by the U. S. Fuel Administration because it shows the fireman just what he should do every minute of the shift.

Also Foxboro Instruments, Draft Gauges, Green Fuel Economizers, Fans, Valves, etc.

AMERICA'S freedom was not won by a few well directed volleys from the muskets of the old Continentals, but by the spirit of endurance, of persistent and untiring sacrifice characteristic of that long and awful winter at Valley Forge. And it is that same spirit that will free the rule of tyranny and brutality today. Show that the blood of the fine old American fighter is in you. Buy Liberty Bonds—not the few that you can readily afford but those others that are a real strain on your resources, a real Valley Forge of your Americanism.
